01 Icon design

Artifact to icon

A dancing Parvati sculpture, drawn from observation and then simplified step by step.

It also has to work as a scalable, recognisable icon.

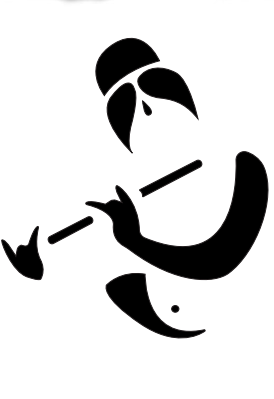
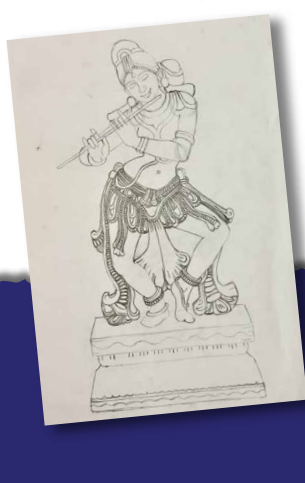
Adobe Illustrator

SKILLS

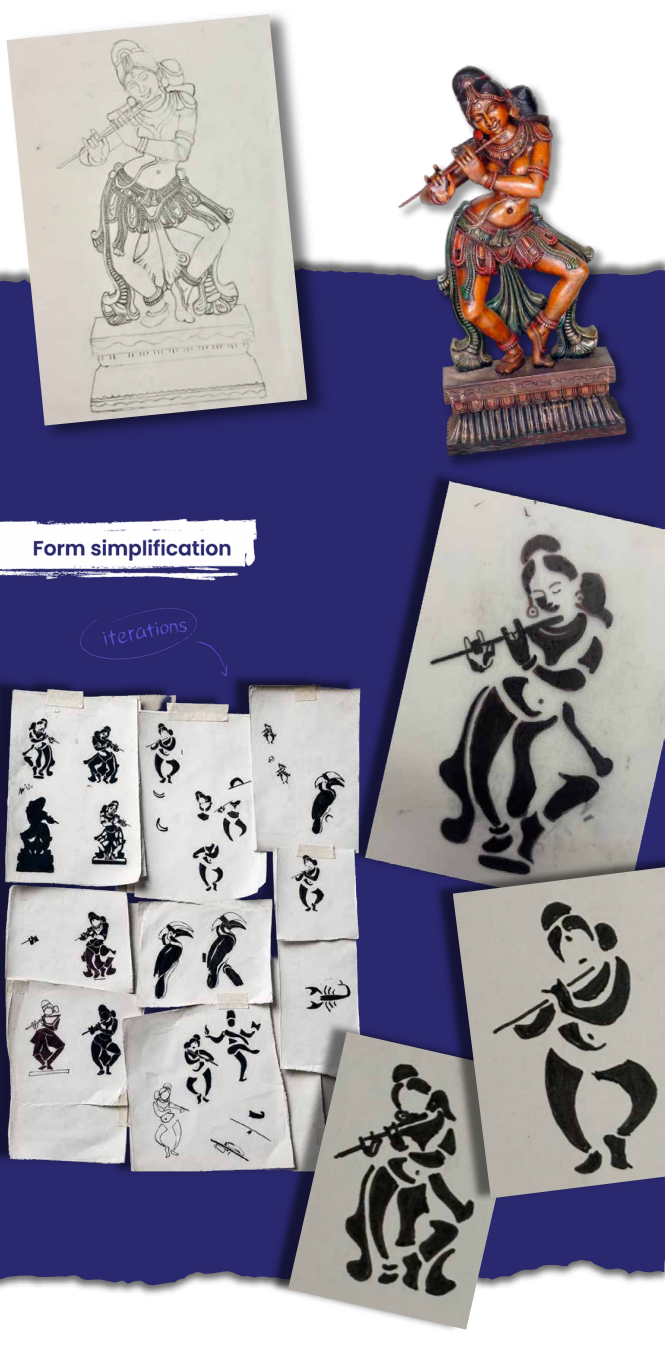
Form simplification · Vector drawing · Negative space



Sketching the form

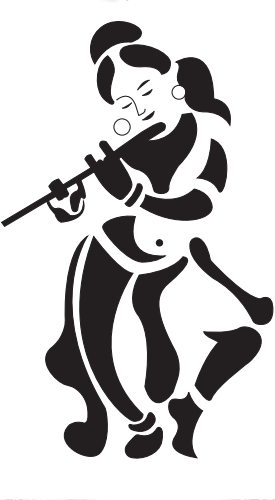


Form simplification

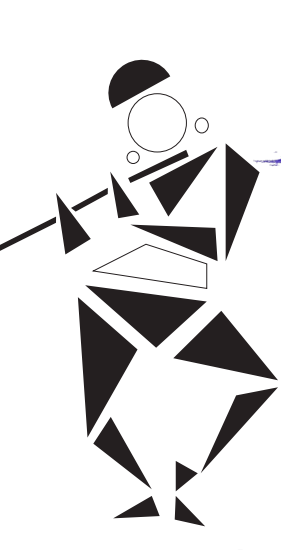


Final silhouette

Tried to capture the essence of Parvati dancing, using negative space and the important forms in the artifact.



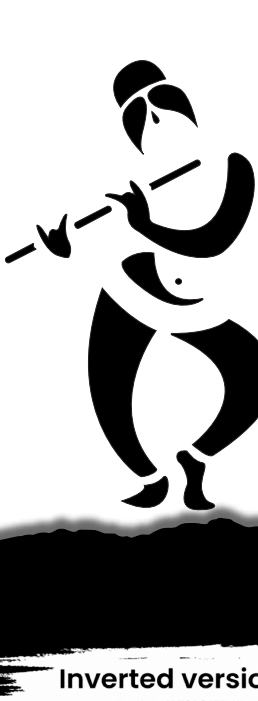
Geometric reduction



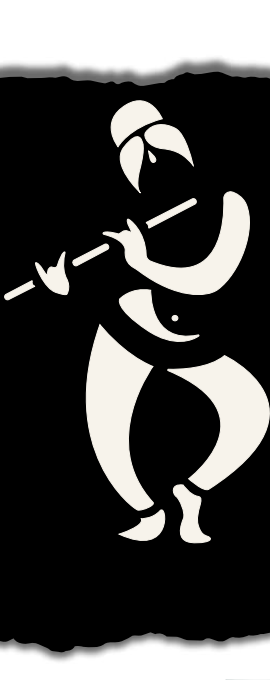
The same figure rebuilt using only straight edges and circles.

Final icon

The version that works at any size. Even weight, and no gaps that close up when it shrinks.

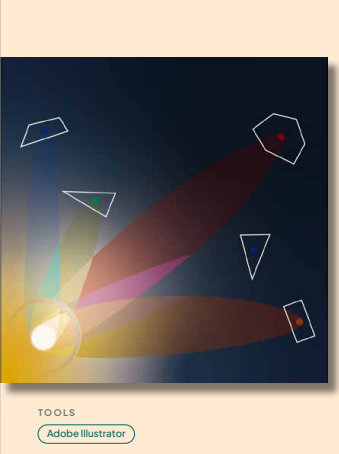


Inverted version



The same icon in reverse. It reads either way, so it sits on any background.

02 Abstract composition



- Meditative
- Journey
- Enlightenment

Concept

Three words to work from: meditative, journey, enlightenment.

The ellipses show the journey of the mind going into a meditative state. Different shapes are different thoughts, and their overlap says all thoughts are connected.

Shapes placed at different distances from the focal point make each thought its own journey, and the focal point is where meditation both starts and ends.

03 Event collaterals Design

Poster design

Sufi Night's visual language had to carry the same elements from the last brief.

A crescent moon, a beam reaching towards it, a dervish below, and ellipses showing the collective vibrations of everyone present coming together into a feeling of enlightenment.

Personal Mark

D and V built as one shape: a camera body, a lens, and a strip of film.

The D as a camera also works as an illusion, forcing the viewer to see it from different perspectives.

That points at a trait of mine: I like to explore different perspectives in everything I do.

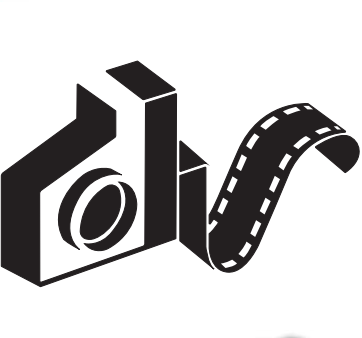
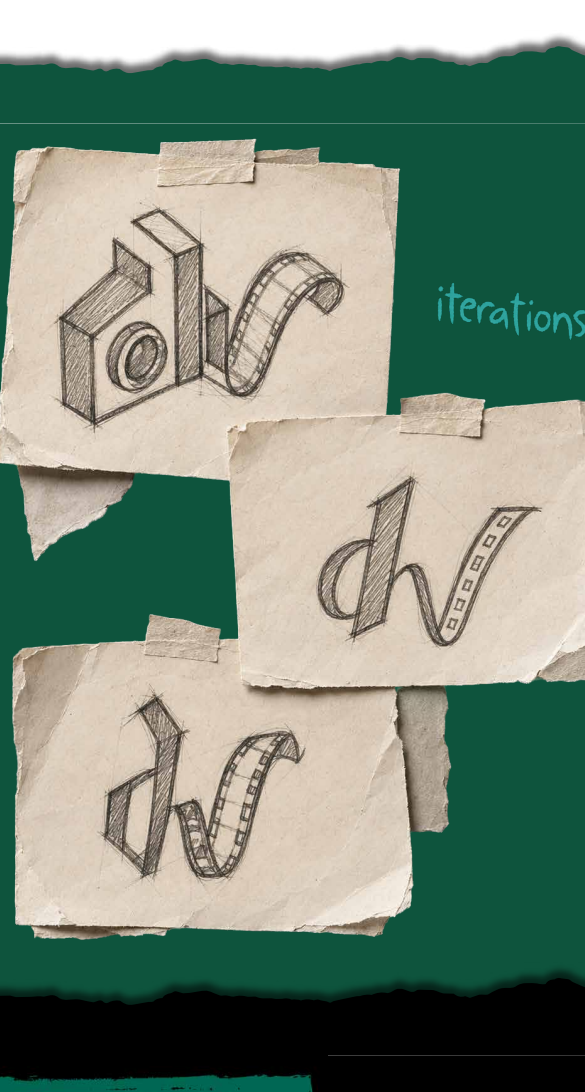
Adobe Illustrator

SKILLS

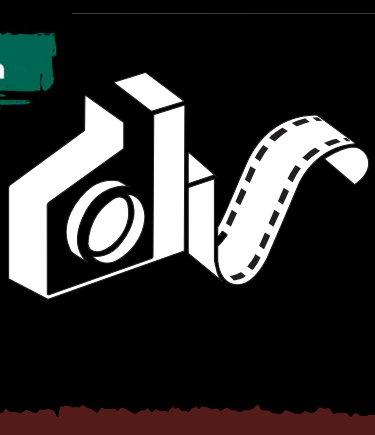
Logo design · Negative space





inverted version

The same mark in reverse. One colour, either way round.



Kashi

01 Research & mood

Understanding Kashi

Most people think of Kashi as a chaotic riverside city, unsanitised, polluted, crowded, and deaths at the ghats. Foreigners named the place "the city of death".

That reading is wrong. Kashi is rich in culture and heritage, one of the oldest cities in the world, and the "city of enlightenment".

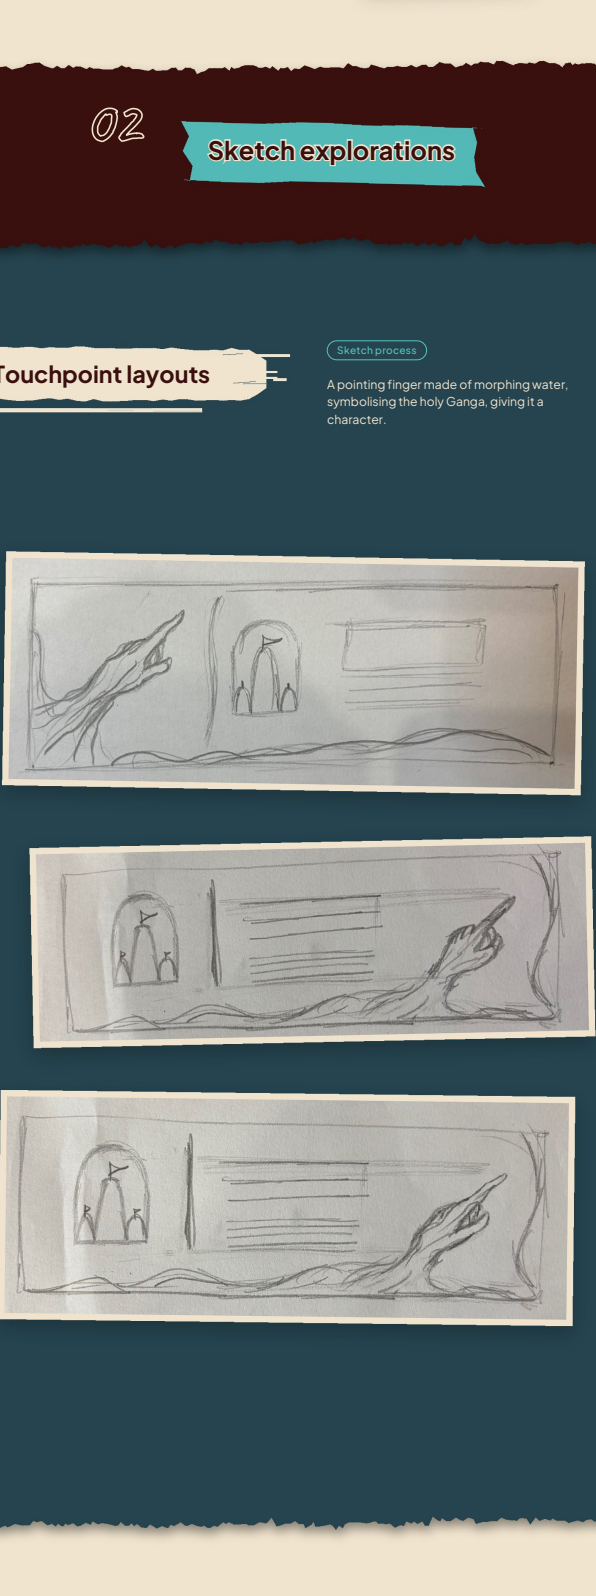
02 Sketch explorations

Touchpoint layouts

Sketch process

A pointing finger made of morphing water, symbolising the holy Ganga, giving it a character.



03 Logo system

Core identity

The letterforms are inspired by the shapes of steps, the ghats of Kashi.

Emphasising the architectural brilliance of the ancient civilisations who resided there. Passing the test of time.

04 Colour & pattern

Palette

Design system

Teal and the blues carry the Ganga, water and cleanliness. The muddy browns carry the architecture and the ghats.

Ivory is the stone and the light on it. Saffron is the flags and the fire.

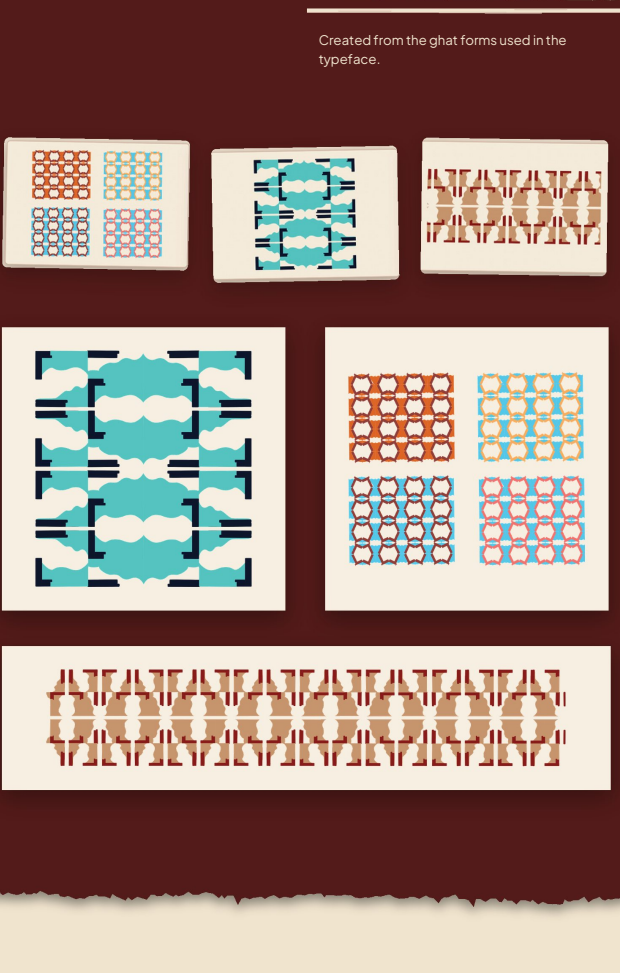
Pattern library

Created from the ghat forms used in the typeface.



05 Motion graphics

Story

A short film where the Ganga takes shape and becomes what the city has gathered.

People, then stories, then faith, then knowledge, then myths.
